Simple solutions to complex problems.

We solve business problems

If your business is becoming a juggling act, we can help with simple solutions to complex problems. We are passionate about using technology to make your working life easier, talk to us, tell us your problems and see if we can help.

Solving everyday problems, everyday

We are more than just a website and software development company, we want to be an integral part of your business. We care about your success and are in this as a partner for the long haul, not a quick sale.

We have a slightly different view of the world when it comes to business systems. If they are not providing a sufficient return on investment then something is wrong.

We specialise in making IT happen. We focus on three main areas; business marketing and promotion using your website, data integration from your business systems to your website and custom software development.

Our range of products and services covers:

Web

- designing and building beautiful websites
- optimising websites so that your site gets visitors
- online stores - sell online
- helping with content and ensuring that you are making an impact
- using the internet to improve communications
- measuring the results with analytics

Data Integration

- automated b2b data exchange (EDI)
- accounting data conversion

Custom Software

- addons and extensions for Microsoft Office™
- bespoke data integration
- fully custom business solutions

Do more, Sell more

We use the internet to help you find more customers and then we use technology to help you keep them coming back and to sell even more. Our Perpetual Promotion strategy is based on the premise that your website is an integrated part of your overall sales and communications strategies. If you don't have one, don't worry, we can help.

Once your business is trading online we can help you to integrate it with your accounts software so that the extra business is effortless.

We can bring all of the pieces together so that they work together to produce a wow!
